A NOTE ABOUT '05 BORDEAUX

As some of you may know the '05 vintage in Bordeaux is considered one of the elite vintages ever recorded. We are beginning to get the opportunity to taste this vintage on a regular basis and we can easily recognize that this is indeed a very special vintage. For those of you who purchased '05 futures, many of your wines have already doubled in VALUE. For those who didn't purchase futures, there is still an abundant supply of great wine being released now through next spring that is not to be missed! If '05 has any significance such as a wedding anniversary, year your child was born or you just want to start collecting, this is the perfect vintage for long term cellaring. Happy hunting!
